THE AMERICAN FOLK-LORE SOCIETY.

RULES.

1. "The American Folk-Lore Society" has for its object the study of Folk-lore in general, and in particular the collection and publication of the Folk-lore of North America.

2. The Society shall publish a Journal, of a scientific character, calculated to promote such collection, a copy of which shall be sent to each Member of the Society.

3. The Society shall consist of Members who subscribe an annual fee of three dollars, payable in advance on the First of January in each year.

4. An Annual Meeting of the Society, of which notice shall be given by the Secretary, shall be held at such time and place as the Council may appoint.

5. The affairs of the Society, including the admission of Members, shall be conducted by a President and a Council of fourteen Members, who shall be elected at each Annual Meeting, for the term of one year. The Council shall have power to fill occasional vacancies in their number.

6. No Member whose subscription is in arrear shall be entitled to vote at the Annual Meeting, or receive a copy of the Journal; and any Member who is one year in arrear of his subscription shall from the time of the Annual Meeting of the ensuing year cease to belong to the Society.

7. No alteration of these rules shall be made except at an Annual Meeting of the Society, and upon the requisition of at least five Members; nor then unless at least one month's previous notice of the change to be proposed shall have been given in writing to the Secretary, by whom it shall, through the mails, be laid before the Members of the Society.

Any persons who desire to become members of the American Folk-Lore Society may address the Secretary.
